□□□□□□□□ AI-AI DE LAS ALAS

By RICKY F. LO

She wears her irreverence like a badge of honor and only she can seem to get away with it. Because she's Ai-Ai de las Alas.

In her controversial concert at the Big Dome, Ai-Ai made a grand entrance through a huge replica of a female's private part, telling the shocked/amused audience using the Waray word for that thing,

“Ngayon lang kayo nakakita ng ganyang kalaking p—y, ano?”

A talent manager raised a “moral” issue against Ai-Ai over the incident but Ai-Ai simply shrugged it off.

On Friday, Nov. 19, Ai-Ai starred in Akin ang Tronong ‘To, her new concert also at the Big Dome, and what shocker is she going to spring on the audience this time?

“I will be at my uncensored best,” threatened Ai-Ai who will transform herself into various characters, including little orphan Annie, a poker-faced Lady Gaga and Michael Jackson. “My guests are showbiz royalties,” she added, referring to Sharon Cuneta and Regine Velasquez.

First Sister Kris Aquino's BFF (Best Friend Forever), Ai-Ai brazenly announced at a presscon, “Ako lang ang may karapatang gumamit kay P-Noy,” meaning only she can “use” President Noynoy Aquino perhaps in the promo for her concert, adding shamelessly, “Ako ang bagay maging First Lady!”

As you can see, Ai-Ai is enjoying to the hilt her solo joyride.
