Philippines (CCP)!

The Philippines' first full length opera, National Artists Guillermo Tolentino and Felipe Padilla De Leon's most beloved 1957 opera, "Noli Me Tangere" (Huwag Mo Salangin/Touch Me Not) returns to the CCP's main theatre, Tanghalang Nicanor Abelardo, from March 8-10, 2019.

Celebrating CCP's 50th Anniversary and commemorating the 60th Anniversary of the opera's production at the CCP, the 2019 all new production is co-directed by Jerry Sibal and Jose Jeffrey Camanag, with Maestro Herminigildo Ranera conducting the 53-piece NOLI Symphony Orchestra.

"Expect a brand-new production of the 'Noli Opera,'" said Sibal.

"We will be using LED walls instead of mapping projections alongside physical set pieces, which create a more 'cinematic' look and feel."

(Now wouldn't you like J&S Production to film and broadcast/screen Noli very much like the popular Metropolitan Opera's award-winning cinematic HD series?)

"Noli Me Tangere, The Opera," which is based on the National Hero Dr. Jose Rizal's 1887 classic novel of the same name, tells the timeless story about love, betrayal and hope set against a repulsive backdrop of tyranny, torture and murder.
